

Katie Moon (William Smyth 2009)

Katie Moon called from the road today
Not feelin' that cheery she did say
The work's gone south and the husband too
And the Lord knows now what she's gonna do

All ollie oxen free
Down by the river side you and me
In the last light of summer
Oh Katie don't you cry
The circle turns and by and by
We can all be together

No supper but a sandwich two days old
No room at the shelter and the nights are cold
The van's broke down and the baby's cryin'
No comfort here but the Thunderbird wine

There's a story told in the sky tonight
Of the ancient battle 'tween dark and light
When the last of the sunshine disappears
You can see beyond the atmosphere
